GRAFFIATO
Taupō Street Art

The Graffiato: Taupō Street Art Festival brings together some of the world's best street artists over Labour weekend every year to transform the town's walls.

The first street art festival of its kind in New Zealand, Graffiato captures the diversity of mural painting practice in New Zealand, and what's new and relevant in global urban culture.

Graffiato's ever-expanding portfolio of over 80 murals brings transformation, wonder and vibrancy to the urban laneways and streets they inhabit. Even locals continue to find surprises hidden away down these charming back alleys.

The artworks identified in this brochure are just a selection of key works. Grab a coffee, wander off the main streets into the many hidden laneways, and discover this rich collection of works for yourself – but keep your eyes up as there are many more surprises around each corner!
